Lions Club to Consider New Scout Building

Plan for "Safety on the Lakes" Drive for Summer Season

A request by scout officials of Antioch at the Monday evening meeting of the Lions club of Antioch, started the ball rolling, and before the discussion was concluded, plans to erect a new building in Antioch for scouting purposes was considered. Roman Vos, president of the club will appear before the American Legion at a meeting to be held on Feb. 6, to arrange for co-operation between the two organizations on the project. "It is possible that the Lions club will assume sponsorship of the scouts," he said.

Vos also stated that Harold Cardiff, scoutmaster, had offered land on which to place the building free of charge, the location being on North avenue, east of Main street.

The matter of a contribution to the scouts was tabled until the new plans can be investigated, as was a similar request for funds made by Homer LaPlant on behalf of Antioch's girl scouts.

Other business transacted at the meeting included a lengthy discussion of safety measures for the summer season on the lakes. Several tragic accidents involving speedboats which resulted in the death of vacationists were cited as examples of the necessity of measures being taken. The committees on safety and the Chain O' Lakes betterment committee were instructed to work out plans to avoid a recurrence of the accidents. Suggested were a patrol of the channels to curb speeding by speedboat enthusiasts and posters and signs outlining safe boating and swimming for fishermen and bathers.

Ten new members were accepted at the meeting, which was held at the Castle, route 173 and 45. Dr. L. J. Zimmerman, chairman of the membership committee, reports that a few more prospective members would be presented at the next meeting.

The Antioch department was called in to assist the Bristol department in whose territory the estate is located. Damage was estimated at over $20,000.

More Candidates Run For Salem Twp. Office

The hint that there might be other candidates in the race for office in Salem township's caucus Saturday had its foundation in the protest that the name of Matt G. Siebert, of Salem, was omitted among the candidates for chairman.

Siebert served five terms in the Wisconsin legislature as assemblyman from Kenosha county prior to which time he was Salem town chairman.

James Schlax let it be known that he is a candidate for town clerk, the office now held by Al Schmidt.

There may be still other candidates but the News has not been informed if there are.

The town meeting will be at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the Salem Town hall. Voting will be from 2 to 4 p. m.

March of Dimes Reaches All-Time High of $386.15

With $386.15 already collected, Roy I. Kufalk, local March of Dimes chairman, reports that response to the drive has been better than ever before during the seven years it has been conducted here. Last year's total amounted to only about $245.00. He said that all the promised donations have not been received and that it is possible that the total will reach $500.

Showing of the picture and collections in both the Antioch and Lakes theatre accounted for a large part of the total with collections at the Antioch totalling $165.25 for the three days it was shown there, and a total of $159.90 collected to date at the Lakes, which is showing the trailer for a full week. The amount collected at the Lakes is only up to Tuesday evening and the balance of the week's run is certain to add to it.

Other contributors include the Antioch Lions club, the Grass Lake PTA and other organizations and individuals.

Kufalk said that he was highly gratified by the response to the appeal to date and told of a seven-year-old girl who placed a dime in the collection box at the postoffice and when questioned, volunteered the information that this was her third contribution. When Kufalk told her that she was very generous she replied, "Well, gee, I hate to see those little kids suffer." After telling this story, he observed that if grownups would stop to think about the drive and its purpose, little difficulty would be encountered in getting sufficient funds for research in attempts to stamp out the disease and care for all who are attacked by it.

Home Bureau Women Have Excellent Time At Champaign Meet

Four Antioch members of the Home Bureau were among the 34 Lake county women who attended the Farm and Home Week conference at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture in Champaign this week.

The Antioch delegates were Mesdames James Van Cura, E. J. McDougall, William Walters and Paschal Allen. They will make their report of the program to their own group at the February meeting.

The Lake county delegation was headed by Mrs. Carl Fink, Volo, county president; Mrs. William Alkofer, American unit, county secretary; and Mrs. E. J. McDougall of Antioch, county treasurer. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Helen Volk, home adviser.

Sequoits to Play Wauconda Friday; Beat Bensenville

Foul out to Ela at Lake Zurich There to Break Even

Having broken even on its games last week the Antioch Township High school basketball team will go to Wauconda Friday evening in a return game that will test the two quintets for the district tourney next month.

Antioch has made the better showing thus far and hopes to improve its standing in the Northwest conference as the result of this game.

The Sequoits nosed out a victory over Bensenville here Saturday night by a 43 to 42 score in overtime play. The score at the end of the regular play was 42-all and Antioch held the visitors scoreless in the extra period while tossing a foul goal.

Bensenville led most of the way, holding a four-point advantage at the half and three points in the third quarter. Jones cut loose for three baskets in the fourth period to even things up and Fields tossed the winning point.

Thollander, Bensenville forward, had a big night with a total of 17 of the visitors' 42 points.

The Bensenville J-V's secured an easy victory over the Antioch J-V's. They took the long end of a 41-19 score.

The Sequoits lost a hard fought battle at Lake Zurich the night before to the Ela Bears 41 to 50. The Sequoits were in the lead 25 to 21 at the half and were going strong when one by one the regulars went out on personal fouls. Antioch lost four of its five players in this manner during the last half and the substitutes were not able to keep up the pace.

The Antioch Jayvees played a good game against the Ela second team holding them to a 38-30 score. Antioch led at the half 17 to 15 but weakened in the third quarter.

The Sequoits played under the direction of Principal T. R. Birkhead last week-end because of the absence of Coach Kruzan, who was called away by the death of his father.

Antioch Has Good Chance To Win District Tourney At Wauconda Next Month

Lake Forest appeared to be the only tough team in the Wauconda district high school basketball tournament as Coach Maurice Kruzan, steersman for the Antioch Sequoits looked at the list of teams scheduled for the meet.

Teams assigned to the district are Antioch, Grant, Grayslake, Warren of Gurnee, Lake Forest, Ela of Lake Zurich, Barrington, Northbrook and Wauconda.

Ela, who has beaten Antioch twice this year is said to have been greatly weakened by the loss of its star player, Orville Grever, who according to reports from Waukegan, has transferred to the Bulldog camp.

Grever's parents have been working in Waukegan for nearly a year but have been unable to find living quarters there until recently. Grever has been living at Round Lake and commuting to Lake Zurich. He is eligible to play for Waukegan, it is said, but the coach there does not think he is in condition yet for the large floor after having played on smaller ones.

The winner of the Wauconda tourney will play in the regional meet at Waukegan the following week. Teams playing there will be Evanston, Waukegan, Highland Park, Libertyville, Niles of Skokie, New Trier, Zion-Benton, and the Wauconda winner.

National Boat Show Opens February 1

Chicago's long established national Boat show will return to Navy Pier February 1 to February 9, inclusive, it has been announced by Hubbard Erickson, founder and manager of the exposition.

More than 100 exhibitors have already been allotted space, he said, and the greatest variety of all types of pleasure craft and accessories in the show's history, will be on display.

The Chicago boat show has been an annual event ever since 1929, except for three war years. The war which limited this area's thousands of fresh water sailors in their supply of boats and equipment, will bring them this season its bor-born developments in boats, marine engines and nautical equipment.

Exhibits will range from huge cabin cruisers to car-top canoes, along with all the necessary gear and the latest innovations in aids to the yachtsman or boat owner.

Co-operating organizations participating in the '47 show include the Lake Michigan Yachting association, Great Lakes Cruising club, Nautical Research and Model society, Central Marine Chamber of commerce, and the Outboard Boating clubs of America.

Erickson pointed out the great advantage of the Navy Pier exposition space is the fact that only two aisles, each extending the entire length of the hall, will carry all the spectator traffic. This means that every exhibit space will be easily viewed by the public.

Farmers of Lake County will have an opportunity to obtain the latest information on crop varieties and cultural practices and soils and fertilizers at a meeting to be held at the Farm Bureau office in Grayslake on Wednesday, Feb. 5. All interested farmers are invited to attend.

County DHIA Provided New Herd Tester to Take Place of Ray Toft

Max Ryan, Tonica, Ill., and recently discharged from the navy has been employed by the Lake County Dairy Herd Improvement association as tester, according to Ray T. Nicholas, Lake County farm adviser.

Mr. Ryan succeeds Ray Toft, who recently resigned to take a position with the Lake-Cook Farm Supply company at Grayslake. Born and raised on a dairy farm in LaSalle county, Ryan will have charge of testing and weighing the milk produced from cows in the 27 herds under his supervision.

Recommendations for feeding the cows in each herd will be made by the tester in accordance with each animal's butterfat production. Lake county now has their D. H. I. A. testers supervising the testing of more than 75 herds.

Antioch Digging Out of Heaviest Snowfall of Year

Stalled cars and trucks are the order of the day in Antioch, following what was by far the heaviest snowfall of the year. The snow, which started to fall about noon Wednesday, deposited a layer about 8 inches deep, according to an estimate by Roy I. Kufalk, Antioch's official weather man. He said that an accurate test could not be made due to the wind and extreme density of the snow and sleet.

Wind of about twenty miles per hour during the night piled the snow high on east and west roads, and many persons living in the subdivisions out around the lakes were unable to get to work this morning. Most of the main highways were open to travel, but no report on the township roads could be obtained. Township road commissioner Bob Webb left home Wednesday afternoon when the snow started and has been out-of-telephone range since.

Village Truck Breaks Down

The village snow plow has been out of service since 4 o'clock this morning, when the differential broke. Village Street Commissioner William Thiemann reports that most of the streets on the south side of town were cleared before the truck broke down. Garagemen towed the truck in immediately after the failure and have been working on it since and Thiemann said that it would be back in service sometime today.

Persons who have no need to drive are advised to keep off the streets and highways by the Chicago Motor club, the state police department, and other organizations, as conditions on northern Illinois highways are deteriorating rapidly, due to the snow which is still falling. Many roads which are now open will be completely closed if the snow continues.

Schools Closed; Dismissed Early

Antioch high school was closed today due to the inability of students and teachers to reach the school. T. R. Birkhead, principal, said today that the school would be open Friday if conditions were such that a good enough attendance could be expected, but that he was "not too optimistic."

Richard Whitaker of the grade school said that the school was dismissed at 2:00 p. m. today to give the children a longer time to get to their homes before dark and that school would be held Friday unless conditions were such that travel by the pupils would be dangerous.

Christian Science Talk Planned For February 6

The Science of Eternal Life" is the title of the free lecture to be given at the Methodist church, north Main street, next Monday evening, Feb. 6, at 8 o'clock.

Harold Molter, C. S. B., the lecturer, comes from Chicago and is a member of the board of lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

In arranging for the lecture, the members of the Christian Science society of Antioch believe they are providing a means for reaching many people with answers to frequent questions about Christian Science—what it teaches, how it heals, why thousands have become its adherents. A cordial welcome is extended to the public to attend. The lecture is free.

Go to the Polls!

In theory, we have government by majority in this nation. In practice, we frequently have government by minority.

A glance at the voting figures of your town, county, and state will substantiate this. Time and time again, well under half of the registered voters go to the polls on election day. This is particularly true of local elections, and national elections in off-years when there is no race for the presidency. And when that happens, the "voice of the people" is a small and ineffectual voice indeed.

Our ancestors fought for centuries to win and maintain the right of franchise. It is the basic guardian of free government—and of all the other freedoms which are possible only under free government. It is the first right to be abrogated by dictators—as the travesties on the "free" election system which used to occur periodically in Germany, Italy and elsewhere prove. It is the greatest defense against oppression.

The citizen who fails to vote shirks a basic and inescapable responsibility. Go to the polls on election day and cast your ballot for the men and measures of your choice. That is both a great duty and a great privilege.

You Take the Rap

Do you take electric power service for granted? Do you feel that when you push a button or turn a switch you will at once be given all the juice you want for any purpose?

That confidence, of course, is justified practically everywhere in this country. No industry has done more than the power utilities in bettering service and at the same time cheapening it. But there are some areas where, some years ago, a People's Utility District (PUD) fair. One of these areas lies along the Oregon coast where, some years ago, a People's Utility District (PUD) put out of business the private power company long operated as a typically excellent, state-regulated utility. The result was a disgraceful deterioration in service.

Here, for instance, is a "plea" this PUD recently sent to its customers with their bills: "We ask your indulgence and assistance. . . . For the next 60 days power outages will become more frequent if any of us fail to observe and put into practice the following:

1. Use the minimum amount of electricity between the hours of 4 to 6 p. m.
2. Disconnect your water heater during the hours of 4 to 8 p. m.
3. In case of power outages, please turn off all lights and electrical appliances. . . . If the outage occurs in the evening, leave only one light on so that you will know that the power has been restored."

Anyone should know what would happen if a private utility descended to this level of power service. The customers would go to the state public service commission, and the utility would get its facilities in order—or else! But things are very different when politics is in the saddle. Then the public is helpless—and consumers and taxpayers take the rap. Socialism comes high whether it be local or national.

The Philosophy of America

Doctor Harold C. Urey, who participated in the development of the atomic bomb, warns that either the United States must secure adequate international control of the bomb or begin preparations for the third world war. Without fuss or furor, military authorities are doing just that—preparing for the next war. It will be the war of the atom bomb.

With such horror threatening them, the American people should take stock of themselves. Just what it is that compels them to choose death if need be rather than face a future under the possible dominance of another nation? The popular slogan of "saving the world for democracy" is not enough. In fact, no catch phrases, including tear-jerking sermons on the four freedoms, are of sufficient spiritual magnitude to cause an individual to step forth willingly to die. Yet something so powerful pervades this land that people will unhesitatingly choose destruction rather than "appease" those who would have us live other than according to our political ideals.

The challenge of the atom bomb may do more than anything else to restore the American sense of values. False standards cannot live in a nation where the people think seriously. A new understanding of the philosophy that the individual is more important than the state, is long overdue. This is the essence of Christianity. It is this, and nothing else, for which the people of this country are willing to stake their lives.

It is this Christian philosophy of the individual first that we see and feel in the clean morning air in every nook and cranny of the United States as millions of us wend our way to work and play. It pervades every business enterprise big and little. It is the foundation of our government. On Sunday the bells of thousands of churches peal a ringing affirmation. No mere words can describe this philosophy of America, but it is there for all to enjoy—and it is worth more than life itself.

Library Booknotes

(By Marion Rigby, Librarian)
Patrons of the library are arm-chair travelling with great enjoyment these winter days. Two viewmasters and 36 reels of film were given to the library as a memorial to William Hillbrand. The films are stereoscopic, kodachrome views of scenic interest in the States, Hawaii, and Latin America. The opinion of library patrons on this entertaining and educational gift is best summed up in the often heard verdict, "Better'n a movie."

Ruth Webb Lee is the outstanding authority on American glassware. Her book, "Early American Pressed Glass," is the only book of its kind and is illustrated with a truly impressive collection of photographs. Dedicated to the memory of Lucile La Plant.

"Mr. Lincoln's Wife," by Anne Colver, is a fine novel based on the married life of Mary Todd Lincoln. Mary Todd's difficult position, having three brothers fighting for the confederacy, made her the target of criticism from all sides and factions. This novel about a very human person was presented as a memorial book for Lucile LaPlant.

MISS HARNESSE HONORED GUEST AT SHOWER

Miss Shirley Harnesse was honored guest at a bridal shower, given by Mrs. Winsor Dalgard and Miss Alice Harvey, at the Dalgard home on Bishop street Friday evening. The evening was spent in playing bunco. Misses Mabel Lou Hunter and Kathleen Fields were awarded prizes for highest scores. A luncheon was served following the games. Miss Harnesse is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harnesse of Millburn. Announcement of her engagement to Mr. Joseph Nadr, Jr., was made and the wedding will take place February 15.

Series of Jewel Thefts Baffles Scotland Yard

New Mysteries Face Sleuths As Palace, Two Boudoirs Are Ransacked.

LONDON.—Still without a trace of the jewels valued at $80,000 stolen from the duchess of Windsor, the general staff of Scotland Yard is confronted with three more mysteries, the disappearance or theft of $63,000 in gems and furs from St. James palace and from the boudoirs of two American-born titled women.

The thieves who have got away with $300,000 of jewelry and furs in the last two months in Britain's postwar crime wave added these three coups to the records in Scotland Yard's archives:

1. Stole $3,200 worth of diamonds from the fabulous St. James palace, housing personnel of the royal household. The victim was American-born Lady Piers Legh. Sir Piers is the one-time quarry of the prince of Wales who became king of England and later duke of Windsor.

2. Looted the home of the marchioness of Hartington, daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, former United States ambassador to the court of St. James. The loss was estimated at $40,000 in gems.

3. Robbed the Orme square home of J. Harvey and his daughter, R. Betty Levington, of $20,000 in pearls and two mink coats.

A Scotland Yard pronouncement on the St. James palace case raised speculation that it might have been an "inside" job. The detectives said that case was "not a burglary—the jewels have only been reported stolen."

British Press association speculated that a prewar gang of "country house thieves" might have picked up commando training during the war to accomplish the "cat" burglary of the duchess of Windsor's apartment and the other baffling crimes.

To cope with the thefts, Scotland Yard sent six Labrador retrievers to the mounted police school in the hope that their hunting noses could be trained to sniff out a clue which has baffled the nation's foremost experts in crime and fingerprinting.

Sir Piers and his wife, the former Sarah Polk Bradford of Nashville, Tenn., live in an apartment near the famous "clock tower" built by Henry VIII when he was holding court there with his successive wives. The palace, occupied by the royal family for many years, now is used on rare state occasions.

See Raffles Touch.
The method at the Hartington home was that of a modern "Raffles" and followed a pattern of minute planning combined with exact knowledge of the victim's movements and secret hiding places for precious stones.

"The robbery took place during two hours when the house was empty," Lady Hartington's housekeeper said. She reported that when she returned after a short absence, "I found the front door open. The lock did not look as if it had been forced. I went to Lady Hartington's room and found the jewel case empty."

The baffled Harvey family believed the robbery there was committed while they dined.

Nearly two-thirds of the $300,000 haul in two months was taken in four burglaries in ten days. Sandwiched between the Windsor and Hartington thefts was the robbery of $48,000 of gems and furs from Mrs. Vyvyan Van Damm, whose husband operates a burlesque show in London.

Beatrice Lillie, Canadian-born actress who now is Lady Peel, contributed $20,000 worth of gems to an earlier "cat" thief.

WAC Guilty in Gem Theft Gets 5 Years at Hard Labor

FRANKFURT, GERMANY.—WAC Capt. Kathleen Nash Durant was convicted in the Kronberg crown jewel theft.

She was sentenced to five years at hard labor and dismissal from U. S. military service.

A court-martial found Mrs. Durant guilty of larceny and embezzlement. Estimates of the value of the loot ran as high as $1,500,000.

Mrs. Durant and her husband, Col. Jack W. Durant, were brought back to Germany for trial after they were arrested in Chicago early in the summer.

Mrs. Durant formerly was mess officer for an officers' rest camp at Kronberg Castle.

UNRRA Finds No Evidence Of Diversion of Slav Food

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA.—A special three-power UNRRA investigating commission reported that it had found no evidence of the diversion of large quantities of UNRRA supplies to the Yugoslav army.

The commission said it could "state unreservedly that the great bulk of two million tons of UNRRA supplies sent to Yugoslavia has been effectively distributed among the people of the country and undoubtedly has saved millions of lives in Yugoslavia."

MARKETING with Marjorie

February may be short on days, but it's certainly long on holidays... what with national holidays and Valentine's Day, too, all calling for celebration this month! So here are some special dishes for these special days. (They're so easy to fix you'll probably want to serve them even if you're not having a party.)

HEAVENLY HEARTS

Your family will elect you their valentine when they taste this dessert starring SPARKLE VANILLA PUDDING from the A&P! Cut pastry (1/4" thick) with heart-shaped cookie cutter. Prick with fork and bake in very hot oven, 450° F., 8 to 10 minutes. Prepare SPARKLE VANILLA PUDDING according to package directions; cool. Just before serving, put a layer of pudding and your favorite preserves between two hearts. Ummm!

CHEER-WORTHY CHERRY PIE

Washington's Birthday without cherry pie? No, indeed! And, to give it an extra festive touch, before baking it I cut out with a sharp knife two hatchet-shaped designs about three inches long in the top crust. Then, after it's baked and cool, I fill the hatchet designs with whipped cream. I make my light, flaky crust with SUNNYFIELD FLOUR, which I get at the A&P. This bleached, enriched flour is grand in any recipe requiring all-purpose flour. Try it!

TEA FOR TWO...OR TWENTY
Tea goes well with any of the holiday treats I've described... especially when it's flavored tested tea from A&P! Buy OUR OWN or NECTAR tea bags at your A&P, and let your guests make their tea as they like it. They're sure to like it a lot, for these teas are blended to give real enjoyment!

TREAT FOR THE TWENTY-SECOND
It's easy as rolling off a log to make this Washington's Birthday salad. Cover straight pieces of banana 4" long with ANN PAGE SALAD DRESSING.

Roll from your A&P, roll in chopped nuts, and insert a cardboard hatchet in a slit in each banana "log." Pretty! And oh so tasty—thanks to the tart-sweet flavor of creamy, smooth ANN PAGE SALAD DRESSING!

Disabled Vet Meets

Apple Is Not Enough For Teacher Today

More Pay and Freedom Is Asked These Days.

WASHINGTON.—Any moment now teachers may be allowed to act like human beings.

That's the prediction—and the hope—of Dr. Francis Brown, executive secretary of the President's Commission on Higher Education.

Dr. Brown said that two developments may come from the teacher shortage.

They are better pay and more freedom for teachers.

There are 27,000 teachers, mostly in one-room schools, who make $700 or less a year. Even counting in the city aristocrats, the average teacher's salary is but $1,900 a year.

As for behavior, Brown says almost every community has a double standard. One is for the way teachers must behave, in and out of the classroom. The other is for regular people.

"As an example," he said, "in how many communities can a teacher smoke? Or have a sociable drink?"

"I'm not condoning tobacco or liquor. But I'm pointing out a double standard does exist—and it shouldn't. Teachers should be allowed to act like other people."

Brown believes that if teachers don't get more pay and freedom, the shortages will get shorter.

Half of those going to teachers' colleges today don't intend to teach. And in another three or four years, the war's bumper baby crop will be starting to school.

Brown explained that while he thinks teachers should be given more freedom, they shouldn't run wild.

"After all, teachers are setting an example for students," he said.

He said, yes, he had noticed a story about a versatile Chicago miss who doubled as a teacher and nightclub dancer.

Did he approve?
"Well," said Brown. "Well, in theory, yes."

World Bank Wants More Nations to Seek Funds

WASHINGTON.—The 15½-billion-dollar World Bank and Fund, urgently prodded by both United Nations and UNRRA, moved toward their goal of making "a major contribution to the restoration of international trade and domestic economic stability in all countries."

Frankly hanging out the "customers wanted" shingle, the twin lending agencies concluded their first annual meeting with the election of Hugh Dalton, British chancellor of the exchequer, as the new chairman of the bank and fund boards of governors.

London was selected as the site for the next meeting in September, 1947.

So far only six nations have intimated that they will seek long-term loans for reconstruction and development and none of the six has yet made a formal application.

Altogether their requested loans total more than $1,550,000,000, with France seeking 500 millions, Poland 300 millions, Czechoslovakia 350 millions, Denmark 50 millions, Chile 50 millions, and Holland an unspecified amount.

New Disease Is Traced to Mice-Borne Bug; Many Suffer

NEW YORK.—Bites by mice-borne mites—no larger than a pinhead—caused the mysterious fever that gripped 102 New York City residents during the summer months, the health department disclosed.

Israel Weinstein, city health commissioner, said the fever—characterized by a rash, high temperature and prostration—was a "new disease as far as human knowledge is concerned."

The mites are only accidentally transmitted to humans, Weinstein said. He added that tests showed the mite was present in the blood of patients and that infected mice were found in homes in which the disease occurred.

The women of the community are invited.

The village was much saddened last Wednesday by the very sudden illness and death of Mrs. Carl Miller at Condell Memorial hospital, where she was taken soon after noon following a stroke and passed away the same evening. Mrs. Miller had made many friends during her residence here and will be greatly missed. Funeral services were conducted at the Strang funeral home in Antioch with the Rev. Francis M. Mrs. Blumenschein and Mrs. Walter Schneider went on Thursday to South Bend, Ind., to see the new granddaughter born on Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Blumenschein, and returned on Friday with the two older Blumenschein children, who will stay with the grandparents for a time.

Dr. and Mrs. Midgley left Thursday on a vacation trip to the southern states.

Don Summers, who has been employed in the Hooper drug store, owned by his uncle, B. J. Hooper, has purchased the business of his uncle and took charge Jan. 10. Mr. Hooper will continue to assist in the business and he and his wife will still occupy the flat above the store, and will have time for some relaxation.

HOLLYWOOD HALO

By Dorothy M. Peper

WNU Features.
He was back in his room. The movie had been good. In fact, the movie had been very good. But now, alone again, he felt a little sad.

On the table before him stood a silver-framed photograph—her picture, with her autograph. He was going to write her a letter. He started out the way they do in movies and books—chewing the top of the fountain pen, writing a few lines, wadding up sheet after sheet. . . .

Finally, after a struggle, he plunged ahead:

"Dear Gloria:

"I saw your new picture, 'Hollywood Halo,' at the Carthay Circle tonight. You were as sweet and beautiful as ever. But then, I guess it's just natural for me to think you're tops!

"You'll be surprised, I reckon, when you open your fan mail tomorrow, and in it find this. Maybe you will think that I'm a little silly. But I'm not. The trouble is adults think kids don't have any sense. But a guy who's 14 knows plenty. Especially what he likes and wants.

"Well, what I like more than all the world is you—and what I want most is to have you all to myself. I love you more than life, and I'm proud of your success. (I read that last sentence in a book. But I mean it, and it is the truth.) I'd like to be the one to give you everything you want in life. But I wouldn't want you to belong to anyone else. Maybe that is selfish. But you'll understand, I hope.

"I saw your new picture. You were as sweet, as beautiful as ever."

"You were wonderful in the picture, tonight. Especially, the scene in which you did that dance when you came out in that long, blue dress. You know what I did, Gloria? I closed my eyes and pretended I was the one there with you, whirling you about. And the part where you were in the roadster, going real fast—I pretended I was the driver and you were at my side. Your hair blew back away from your face, and you were laughing. I love to hear you laugh!

"I wish you were here right now, instead of your photograph. I wish you would come in right now through the doorway, and sit on the side of the bed, and talk. I can just imagine how you'd look. Maybe you'd wear the robe you wore in the picture—I think you called the color 'chartreuse.' And slippers to match, with white fur trim at the top. And your hair would be loose around your shoulders, and all soft and golden around your face. Oh, Gloria, you're so beautiful! You make me feel so proud!

"In the picture, you cried—and even if I did know it wasn't real, I couldn't help feeling sad.

"The part of the picture I liked best was when you put on a white apron, to cook a dinner for guests—you didn't know much about it, but you were bound you would do it or bust. That part was natural and real. That's why I liked it so much. You seemed just like yourself, and so little and helpless and cute.

"I pretended you were going to cook hamburgers, and it was Saturday night, and we didn't have a single guest—just you and me—and you didn't have to go back to the studio for a whole month!

"Oh, Gloria! Wouldn't it be wonderful? I love you so much! Maybe it's best you aren't here, and I can write all this—I'm afraid I could never get it said if it had to come out in talk!

"Even if you can't be just mine, I want you to be happy and to have your success. But don't forget I love you,

Your own Johnny.

"P. S. I heard you tell someone the other night that it took a lot more than make-up to hide a 14-year-old son. I know you love me, though—I'm sure I could tell if it was pretended.

"But I wish it didn't matter so much for people to know I'm your son. I wish you could just stay home and cook hamburgers. I wish I could stop calling you Gloria, and just call you Mom."

Make Use of Felt

Use felt from discarded hats for house slippers, a handbag, warm mittens for a school child. Grease spots come out of felt with dry-cleaning solvent—or the felt may be washed in mild, warm soapsuds, though this takes out some stiffness. Felt may be stretched slightly, shrunk, or molded with steam and a hot iron, and sewed by hand or machine the same as cloth. Since there is no raveling, there is no need to finish seams.

Learns Body of Another Buried In Her Grave

Strange Mix-Up Involves Her Father Identifying Wrong Woman as Daughter.

CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA. — Mrs. Bernice Evans learned the other day upon her arrival here that a body identified as hers was buried here last August.

The body is that of a woman who was found dead in a Chicago hotel room where she was registered as Mrs. Roy Arnold. Police took the body to a mortuary, where it was reported to have been identified as that of Mrs. Evans by an acquaintance whose name police did not learn.

The mortuary communicated with Cedar Rapids police. They located Mrs. Evans' father, J. T. Burns, truck operator, who, through a Cedar Rapids undertaker, authorized the mortuary to send the body to Cedar Rapids.

Letter Reopens Case. Cedar Rapids police said Burns at the time identified the body as that of his daughter, but Burns denied this. He said he was dubious, and asked Cedar Rapids police to ask Chicago police to make an investigation. Meanwhile, Burns paid $500 to have the body buried in the family plot in Shiloh cemetery, near Cedar Rapids.

Burns later received a letter from his daughter. He immediately wired her asking her to telephone him, which she did. At that time he did not tell her of her reported death, but asked her to come to Cedar Rapids at once, and later wired money for train fare.

When Mrs. Evans arrived in Cedar Rapids, she was shown an account of the strange mixup in a Cedar Rapids newspaper. She was unable to throw any light on the identity of the woman who was buried under her name.

No One Told Her. Chief of Police Tom Condon of Cedar Rapids said he had no plans to seek permission to disinter the body in an effort to establish identification. He said it is a case for Chicago rather than Cedar Rapids police.

The Cedar Rapids mortuary, which conducted the funeral, offered to refund Burns' money, but pointed out that it had remitted $100 to the Chicago mortuary.

Mrs. Evans said that so far as she knows, no one ever appeared at her home to make inquiries after Chicago police were asked to investigate as a result of Burns' doubt.

29-Year Flight of Slayer Ended by Homesickness

ALEXANDRIA, LA. — Simon Doyle, 72, a fugitive from justice for 29 years, said that homesickness carried him back to Rapides parish where he was convicted of murder in 1915.

"I wanted to see my folks before I die," Doyle said as he awaited return to the state penitentiary at Angola — the same prison from which he escaped February 4, 1917.

Doyle said he used an assumed name which he asked to be withheld because for 29 years, he said, he lived as a respectable citizen in Oklahoma. He said he worked for one oil company for 21 years.

Mrs. Doyle, who went to Oklahoma with her husband after his escape, visited him in the jail here after he came from Bartlesville, Okla., to surrender. While in Oklahoma the couple adopted a daughter who is now married and has three children, Doyle said.

Turkey Eggs Turkey eggs taste just as good and are just as good as chicken eggs, though the consuming public generally does not realize this. They have no off-flavor as compared with chicken eggs and they are somewhat larger.
